

Public and Private Interest in International Arbitration

As part of Paris Arbitration Week, we will be hosting an exclusive half-day event looking at the international arbitration areas where private and public interest intersect – and sometimes collide – particularly with respect to construction, energy and foreign investment disputes.

Topics include:

- Drafting and interpretation of contracts and treaties
- Regulatory powers of states
- Arbitration procedure
- Application of substantive norms
- Evidence
- Decision-making by arbitrators
- Enforcement of awards by state courts

Speakers and Programme

The conference will be opened by a keynote address from Marie-Aimée Peyron, Bâtonnière de Paris, and head of International Dispute Resolution in our Paris office. She will speak about the role of Paris in the future of international arbitration.

Three discussion panels will follow, featuring a high-profile line-up of experts who serve as major international organization representatives, state officers and corporate legal counsel, and which includes:

- Alejandro Carballo Leyda, General Counsel and Head of the Conflict Resolution Centre, Energy Charter Treaty
- Martin Doe, Senior Counsel, Permanent Court of Arbitration
- Alexander Fessas, Secretary General, ICC International Court of Arbitration
- Andrea Holikova, Ministry of Finance Executive Director, Slovak Republic
- Ralf Lindbäck, Vice President, Legal, Services, Wärtsilä Corporation
- Aisha Nadar, FIDIC Executive Committee Member, Consultant at Advokatfirman Runeland AB

The debate will be animated by our International Dispute Resolution partners, George von Mehren, José Feris, Stephen Anway and Antoine Adeline.
